Savannah's Story

Savannah's journey began with uncertainty. After failing her newborn hearing screening, further testing revealed a severe to profound hearing loss in her right ear, along with persistent glue ear in both ears. With no family history, her parents were shocked and overwhelmed by the rapid decisions and specialist appointments that followed.

At six months old, Savannah began therapy at TSH, where her mum found comfort and community among other families on similar paths. Just before turning three, Savannah received a cochlear implant. Although the first year was challenging and the implant didn't work as expected, the TSH team persisted and recently achieved a successful adjustment.

Today, Savannah is thriving. Her speech and language have blossomed, she meets age-appropriate milestones, and her confidence continues to grow. She loves coming to TSH each week.

Theo's Story

Born with VACTERL Association Syndrome, a rare condition affecting multiple organs, he faced major health challenges from the very beginning, including lifesaving surgery at just one day old and ten more within his first two years. The condition also caused profound hearing loss, and because he was born without an auditory nerve, Theo isn't a candidate for a cochlear implant and relies on a hearing aid.

As hospital visits continued, it became clear Theo wasn't developing speech as expected and communicated only through touch and emotion. At 18 months, he was referred to TSH and began the Chatterbox early intervention program, where he received specialised therapy and met other children with profound hearing loss. With time, patience and dedicated support, Theo slowly developed the foundations of listening and spoken language. At two years old, Theo spoke for the first time! A moment his mother, Vicky, describes as life changing. For the family, TSH became more than a therapy provider; it became a support network.

"TSH's Chatterbox program has really helped Theo on his path. We have gone from being able to plan day-by-day for Theo to plan month-by-month." — Vicky, Theo's mother
